From Saturday May 18. to Tuesday May 21. 1728.

St. James's, May 21.

THE following Addreſs has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Orkney, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Richmond. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,
The humble Addreſs of the Council and Burgeſſes of Virginia.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Council and Burgeſſes of your ancient Colony of Virginia, humbly preſume upon this firſt Occaſion of our meeting in a General Aſſembly, to condole with your Majeſty upon the Death of your late Royal Father, of bleſſed and glorious Memory, which afflicted us in no leſs a Degree, than the Loſs of ſo good and ſo renowned a King muſt neceſſarily affect a dutiful and a grateful People.

But when at the ſame time we heard that your Majeſty was placed in Peace upon your Throne; when we ſaw all Orders and Conditions of Men haſtening to acknowlede your undoubted Right and Title, declaring the juſt Senſe they have of thoſe many Royal Virtues, the greateſt Ornament of Princes, which are ſo conſpicuous in your Majeſty, and add the brighteſt Luſtre to the Crown upon your Head, and all Factions and Parties as it were at length confeſſing themſelves convinced, that the Intereſt and Security of the Britiſh Nation are inſeparable from your illuſtrious Houſe, it was impoſſible that our Sorrow ſhould not be turned into Gladneſs. And the Meaſure of our Joy is filled, when we behold that moſt excellent Perſon our gracious Queen abounding in all the Virtues which are neceſſary to finiſh the moſt diſtinguiſhed Character, and educating with a pious Care her Royal Iſſue in Principles perfectly adapted to the Engliſh Conſtitution.

It is the peculiar Happineſs of this Country, that we are more than any other of the American Plantations united in the Religion of the Church of England; and our Civil Rights and Liberties are ſecured to us by the ſame excellent Laws which have ever been the Boaſt of the Engliſh Nation, and have made them greater than any other People: Therefore it merits our moſt thankful Acknowledgements, that your Majeſty has been pleaſed to declare your Reſolution to make the Eſtabliſhment in Church and State your firſt and always your chief Care.

And as we have always been happy under the Protection and Government of the Crown of England, ſo we already at this Diſtance feel the extenſive Influence of your Majeſty's juſt and wiſe Counſels in placing over us Mr. Gooch your Majeſty's Lieutenant-Governour, who as he repreſents your ſacred Perſon in your Authority, ſo he imitates your Majeſty's Piety, Moderation and Juſtice; from whence we have no Room to doubt but his Adminiſtration will always be acceptable to your Majeſty, and eaſy to all your People here.

May the God of Heaven long continue to Yourſelf, to your Royal Conſort, and all your Subjects, that valuable Life on which the publick Weal ſo much depends; may there never want one of your Royal Line to ſit on the Throne of Great Britain; and may your Majeſty and your Royal Family be revered while on Earth, and afterwards recorded in Hiſtory with greater Fame and Glory than your Royal Predeceſſor from whom this Colony has its Name.

St. James's, May 18.

This Morning their Majeſties went to Hounſlow-Heath; where His Majeſty's own Royal Regiment of Welch Fuzileers, commanded by Lieutenant-General Joſeph Sabine, and the Regiment of Foot commanded by the Honourable Colonel Edward Montagu, paſſed in Review before His Majeſty, and made a very fine Appearance. In the Afternoon their Majeſties returned hither.
